

Nick Karpinski

Filmmaker // Educator // Media Artist

Background

Nick is a writer, director, and MFA student in the College of Arts and Media at Southern Illinois University. His creative interests are represented through screenwriting, directing, and media arts practice. His academic writing interests surround cinema, media ecology, and expanded media environments.

Skills

- Screenwriting
- Directing
- Teaching
- Film production
- Video editing
- Scholarly writing
- Media art practice
- Research

Contact Info

Email:

nicholas.karpinski@siu.edu

LinkedIn:

<https://www.linkedin.com/in/nick-karpinski/>

Website: nickkarpinski.com

Work Experience

Graduate Assistant

Southern Illinois University | 2021-present

- Assist professors with teaching and research in the media arts program:
 - Decolonizing Spatial Sovereignty
 - Gateway Journalism Review
 - Movement and Montage — video editing
 - Sound Design
 - Cinema 101
 - New Media Now

Editorial Intern

Philadelphia Magazine | 2019

- Fact-check, write, and edit for the publication

Education

Southern Illinois University
MFA in Media Arts | 2021-2024

Saint Joseph's University
BA in English and Media Studies | 2017-2021

Screenings

- Artspace 304 (2022) — Neil and Mary Ellen Dillard Media and Performance Gallery
- University Film and Video Conference (2023)

Filmography

2022: Locker Room

2023: From the Perspective of a Watchful Spectre

2024: Stains of Ink